(A: 女性, B: 男性)

A: Excuse me. This is 13 A, isn't it ?

B: Yes, it is. Oh, you have a lot of baggage. Let me help you get some on the rack.

A: That's very kind of you. Thank you. Now I can relax. I had a meeting this morning, and it lasted longer than I had expected. I almost missed this train.

B: So you made it just in time.

A: Right. And I'm very lucky to be seated next to someone who's helpful and speaks excellent English.

B: Thanks.

A: I've met a lot of Japanese who speak English, but you're the first one who speaks like an American. Have you studied in the US?

B: Yeah. I studied at a small college in Michigan for one year in 1990.

A: I'm from Michigan, and my hometown has a small college, too.

B: The town where the college is located has the same name as that of a country in Europe.

A: This is like a quiz! Come on! Tell me the name of the town!

B: It's Holland.

A: REALLY! I can't believe this! I am from Holland, Michigan!

B: Wow! What a coincidence! Oh, it's my stop already! I have to get off. I teach at a high school here.

A: I hope I'll see you again.

B: Nice talking to you. Bye now.
